> Senator Clark's answer is made under oath, and although it is asserted that there are a number of flagrant errors in the complaint which the defendant might take advantage of by filing a demurrer, he has not seen fit to take this course, but has gone to the root of the matter, making sweeping denials of the allegations contained in the petition filed by the Government.

In his reply to the Government Senator Clark admits the ownership of certain lands enumerated in the bill, but declares that he is not the owner and neverhas held title to the property mentioned in Chotcau County As to the lands to which he concedes title in himself, he admits that the same were sold to citizens of the United States, or such as had declared their intention of becoming citizens in portions not exceeding 160 acres at the inimum price of $2.50 per acre. avers was done under the act of Congress providing for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada, and the Territory of Washington, approved June 8, 1878, and a further act amendatory thereto authorizing the entry of lands chiefly valuable for building stone under the placer mining law. He admits the conditions precedent to such purchase, including the terms that the applicant did not apply to purchase on speculation, but in good faith, to appropriate it to his own use and benefit, and that he had not directly or indirectly made son or persons whatever, by which the title he might acquire from the United States should haure in whole or in part to the benefit of any person except him-self.

to the benefit of any person except himself.

Continuing in his answer Senator Clark dehies that Cobban ever acted or claimed to act for the defendant in the business of procuring title to or possession of the lands in question and he denies any agreement or contract between Cobban and himself for such purpose. He denies that in obtaining title to the lands or any portion of the tracts mentioned in the bill of complaint there ever were presented any false or fraudulent proofs, or that the same were reduced to writing or sworn to or subscribed by any party or parties who should or did enter land. He denies that any fraud was at any time perpetrated or practiced by any person mentioned in the complaint to the knowledge of the defendant. He declares that he has no knowledge as to whether or not Cobban ever associated himself with one John B. Catlin, as alleged in the complaint.

As to whether R. M. Cobban, John B. Catlin, and C. E. Griswold, as charged in the bill, either by or through themselves or otherwise "examined land or procured the same to be examined, or whether they or either of them procured various or any persons, either for hire or otherwise, to enter land under said or any acts, or whether said parties paid the expenses of any persons or any persons or any acts, or whether said parties paid the ex-penses of any person or persons, or any witness or witnesses, or whether they or either of them paid the price required to be paid at the proper land office of the United States, defendant has not sufficient knowledge upon which to base a belief, and therefore denies the same. Continuing, Senator Clark denies that the several entrymen or entrywomen who made entries of the land as stated in the several entrymen or entrywomen who made entries of the land as stated in the complaint were paid compensation, witness expenses, entrymen or entrywomen's expenses, land office fees or the price required by such acts of Congress, either directly or indirectly, by R. M. Cobban, and alleges the facts to be that Cobban purchased the lands in the usual course of business, and that thereafter Cobban had presented to the defendant an abstract of title duly certified which had been presented to defendant's coursel and had been favorably reported on, and only then did defendant purchase of agree to purchase the lands or any part and only then did defendant purchase agree to purchase the lands or any part parcel of them.

In genetusion the answer says: "Further maswering the complaint herein filed, efendant denies that he knew in a gental way or in any other way that the and entries mentioned in said complaint cere made in any other than the usual egitimate and lawful manner of such entries and denies that he at any time mew or even suspected that all or any of uch land entries had not been made in a egal, lawful, and legitimate manner. Detes upon information and belief that said and or any of the said lands have or had seen entered in violation of any law of longress, or that said several parties of any of them have or ever did enter said or any jands or any parts thereof for hire or upon speculation or for the purpose of enabling defendant to procure title thereto by evasion, and denies that any act or thing done in or about the premises has been done in violation of the laws of Congress. General Strattan made a short and humorous address of welcome, which evoked much merriment. When he concluded the following speakers made brief addresses. Gen. John F. Macchem, Department Commander; Gen. A. M. Legg. Col. S. J. Block, Dr. Frank T. Howe, Col. C. V. Petteys, Col. John McElroy, Dr. J. R. Hayes, Gen. W. W. Dudley, Capt. J. W. Lewis, John Middleton, Col. E. A. Fenton, D. W. Glassie, J. G. Burchfield.

After the many short addresses of welcome and good wishes, Captain Street responded to the royal welcome in a brief address, in which he gave a short sketch of his experiences in the Philippines, and compared the coming of the American troops to the islands with the relief of Lucknow in the Indian mutiny. He thanked his comrades for the hearty welcome they had accorded him on his return home. Captain and Mrs. Street then shook hands with nearty all those present, many of whom were old personal friends. Refreshments were served during the evening.

Hay Fever Can Be Cured at Home.

Gaze upon this picture, and upon this,

and this.

Cured by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

These people ran away from hay fever. They are neglecting home duties, barred from home pleasures, simply prisoners to locality walting for a frost.

These people took a course of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and, immune to pollen poisons, they half the glad Summortime as the pleasantest part of the year.

In a recent issue of a medical journal, an editorial, written exclusively for physicians, says: "Something more than an external irritant is required to produce hay fever. Country people are surrounded by a pollen-laden atmosphere; the fields are full of ripening grasses, the ever-present rag weed grows in luxuriance, the goldenrod blooms by every roadside, and their pollens float on every breeze, yet nearly all the hay fever victims are from the populous centers and of a class shut up in the study, the counting house, the factory or store, where the atmosphere is as free as possible from plant dust."

The results of treatment go to prove the same fact, that the real fault is with the individual, that hay fever is a systemic or constitutional disease rendering one particularly susceptible to the influence of substances that have no unpleasant effect on healthy and constitutionally right folks.

Local applications alone never did and never will cure hay fever. Most local remedies, that give relief, contain cocaine that deadens the affected tissues and lulls the more distressing symptoms to temporary rest, but must be resorted to so frequently as to, each season, fasten the dreadful cocaine habit on a considerable percentage of hay fever victims.

To cure hay fever we must not rely on the local tinkering of mere symptoms but address remedies to the deep-seated constitutional cause that permits of the local irritations.

The only real cure for hay fever, as the only true cure for catarrh, consists in so influencing the system by internal or constitutional treatment as to enable it to withstand and be immune to all plant dust irritants. Correct the constitutional weakness that allows of the disease, by proper internal treatment, and, like healthy folks, you will not have hay fever.

There is one remedy that will do this; will so alter, strengthen and fortify the system that it will be proof against pollen poisons. It is the same remedy that has cured so many thousands of catarrh by building them up out of a systemic weakness that permitted of catarrhal conditions. Stuart's Catarrh Tablets if taken in time will render the system resistant to hay fever, and one will no more have it than do other people who are equally exposed to plant dust.

To wholly escape hay fever one must begin the tablets some time before the attack usually comes on. If one waits until the disease is already manifest, to take the tablets, they will relieve to some degree, and, in a measure ward off the disease.

Begin early, get your system thoroughly under the influence of the tablets and in perfect condition to resist influences that do not affect healthy and constitutionally right people, escape the annual vexations and miseries that attend hay fever, stay at home among your friends attending to life's duties and pleasures, and enjoy the beautiful Summer and Fall months, when all nature rejoices and normal folks are happy and content.

All drug stores sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50 cents a box. They contain no cocaine or opiates, so common to hay fever remedies, and are safe as they are reliable and satisfactory. Try them and be convinced. We will send booklets about hay fever and catarrh free for the asking. F. A. Stuart Company, Marshall, Mich.
